

Ingenos.Gobiet GmbH is a civil engineering consulting company with headquarters in Vienna and developing business in South East Europe. The company is an independent specialist firm assisting clients who are looking for a one-stop civil engineering service partner and advisor over the entire project life cycle. The company operates in all service sectors of the civil construction industry with a focus in civil construction, infrastructure, water and environment.

For the developing operations in South East Europe, we are now looking for:

Project Manager, South East Europe

full-time, located in Vienna.

Required Qualifications:

- Completed study in Civil Engineering, preferably with specialisation in water and environment;
- High computer proficiency (Microsoft Office, AutoCAD and other softwares);
- 5 years of work experience in project management/design/supervision of construction or in acquisition of projects with International Financial Institutions (WB, EBRD, EU, EIB and other)
- Excellent English and good Serbian/Croatian/Bosnian;
- An outstanding team spirit;

Project Manager SEE will be entrusted with the following tasks and responsibilities:

- Acquisition of projects in the SEE region – screening of opportunities, partner search, submission of offers and other related activities;
- Liaison with Clients (IFIs, local governments, private clients) and partners (consortium partners, subcontractors, local engineering offices);
- Project management, including management of international teams, regular presence in monthly meetings and other project activities in the region (travel on the average twice a month);
- Preparation of project reports, in English (and eventually in local language);
- Management of local offices and coordination of activities of local office managers;
- Other tasks allocated by the Managing Director in Vienna.

Motivation letters with the CV should be sent to:

wien@ingob.at and t.kucher@ingob.at